REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The Amendment filed January 21, 2005 has overcome the rejection set forth in the Office action sent October 19, 2004.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

While the cited reference of Takemoto et al. (5,702,303) teaches game machine having an input counter for cumulatively counting and outputting the number and of input game play media; and the cited reference of Mindes et al. (5,842,921) teaches a system and method for wagering at fixed handicaps and/or odds on a sports event; Takemoto et al. and/or Mindes et al., alone or in combination, does not anticipate or make obvious the applicant's claimed limitations of a gaming device controlled by a processor, said gaming device a game operable upon a wager made by a player; an input device in communication with the processor; a display device controlled by the processor; and a graph including a first axis and a second axis, wherein a plurality of different potential payout values are associated with the first axis and time is associated with the second axis, wherein in a play of the game, the processor is operable to cause the display device to display the graph, sequentially display each of a plurality of the payout values on the graph for a designated amount of time, enable the player to accept one of the payout values using the input device and provide an outcome to the player, wherein the outcome includes the displayed payout value accepted by the player or the payout value displayed on the graph (as per claims 49, 59, and 70), in combination with other presented limitations.

Claims 49-80, therefore, are allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
